DEDICATION

FOR HER SWEET UNDERSTANDING AND GUIDANCE, WE, THE SENIOR CLASS OF '52, HEREBY DEDICATE THIS EIGHTH VOLUME OF "THE TORCH" TO MRS. VIRGINIA R. GOBBLE.

THE SENIOR CLASS

FOREWORD

We realize that some of our happiest moments and valued experiences have come to pass in this, our senior year at East Spencer High School.

Through these pages of the Torch we have attempted to portray some phases of our school life and have stored within the pictures of our classmates as we remember them. We hope that they will have a special significance for you in future years.

We wish to express our gratitude to each who has had a part in making possible the publication of the yearbook.

CLASS HISTORY

In spite of the fact that, as grammer graders, it seemed to us as if the eight years required to make us high school freshmen would never pass; now, as Seniors, it seems almost as if it were only yesterday that we -- mere children -- were beginning our long journey, part of which we now review.

1948-49. At last we had completed our long tenure of grammar school because we were freshmen and a part of the high school. No doubt we seemed awkward to the upper classmen, but through guidance from others and through our own determination we adjusted ourselves to the new ideas and rules of this more complex world of which we were a part.

This, our freshman year, we were fortunate in having some new students join us from other schools. From Dukeville we had Jimmy Mahaley. From Salisbury we had two girls to come to the campus of East Spencer High School, Helen Gregory and Dot Honeycutt.

That year we also placed some fellow students on the varsity basketball and baseball teams. We think they were a credit to the teams.

1949-50. After having passed through our year of apprenticeship, we were ready to take anything in our stride.

This year our class increased from twenty to twenty-five. From Spencer we obtained quite a few students. Joan Trexler, Ruth Gobble, Charles Rosemond, and Paul Miller. From Salisbury we received Carolyn Hess. China Grove contributed Rachel Winders and Linwood gave us Ray Melton.

Several of our girls were honored by being asked to serve for the Junior-Senior Banquet. Among these were Helen Gregory, Rachel Winders, Donnie Gilbert and Jane Kluttz.

1950-51. This year was really exciting. Our class sponsored the school newspaper which was "The Beacon."

We lost several girls who were married. They were Betty Cathey, Louise Foust, Louise Clement, and Ruth Gobble. We also planned our Junior-Senior Banquet which was held at Haley's Resturant.

1951-52. This, our final year, we have had fun working on this annual. We regret that this is our last year, so we have tried to make the best of it.

As we take the last step and receive our diplomas, we feel that this year has been a successful one with the accomplishment of the Torch and the Senior Play.

Now, on the threshold of adulthood, ready for the life ahead of us, we are striving to live up to our motto, "Live and Learn."

CLASS PROPHECY

Joan Trexler has taken time off from her dancing school in New York to visit Tarby Sides in the "ole home town! We are looking over the town and here's what we find.

As we are walking down the street, we see a man on the street television show run by Ray Melton. He is now connected with W.S.A.TV.

We walk up to an intersection and catch a glimpse of Charles Pearce as he climbs into a car. He is going to Durham to a football game. He's still thumbing, I guess.

As we continue on our journey, we meet Jack McDowell. He tells us that he has been made 6th. vice-president of the Bamby Bakeries. We congratulate him and go on down the street. We meet Ralph Gheen and find that after school he went to New Mexico and discovered oil and then came back to the suburbs of East Spencer and settled down. We leave him and soon we see an admiral with a lot of stars on his shoulder. We look twice and see that it is Raymond Goodman. Boy! He sure made the grade fast. As we continue our tour through the town we meet Corky Myrick. He tells us he has been promoted to the Managerial job at Carter Bros. Inc.

We are getting a little hungry by now, so we stop at a snack bar to get something to eat. A woman comes to get our order and we discover that it is Rachel Winders. She is doing pretty well as owner of her own Ice Cream Bar.

We leave and step out on the street. We buy a newspaper to see who will be in Helen Gregory's "Who's Who" column today. She has a write up about Charles Rosemond and his famous compositions, which he plays at Carneigie Hall. He has really made good at the piano playing since he left high school.

We see a snappy advertisement in the paper advertising skating. It is for Lomax's Roler Drome owned by Bill Lomax and his wife, the former Marie Hoffner. Things surely do happen, don't they?

We look in the social column and see an announcement of the birth of twins. They belong to Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Allen. The madam is the former Donnie Gilbert.

We check on the sports column and see the results of the Darlington Speedway Race. Yep! Bob Connor has done it again. That's the fourth time in a row.

We throw the paper away and start up the street and who should we see? Jim Sides and Charles Huffman talking over old times. Jim tells us that after graduating from Duke, he took a coaching position at Weybeloe Normal, and has good prospects of a fine team.

Charles Huffman, who owns a large cattle ranch called the "Cirle H", crawls into a Cadillac and drives off for parts unknown.

Joan tells Tarby that she is running a mammoth dancing school in New York City and is very prosperous.

Tarby in reply tells of his good luck and that he is owner of the town's leading night spot, called the "Lucky Lady Casino." The place has an appropriate motto: "If you come in the pink, you will leave in the red."

Of course, this is just our belief, because no one can really tell what the future brings. We will just have to wait and see.

CLASS LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT:

In the year of 1951, we hereby write and witness the following Last Will and Testament of The Senior Class of East Spencer High School

Ray Melton wills his ability to drive the bus and to keep an extra girl friend to Eugene Stoner.

Joan Trexler wills her Dancing School to any good dancing teacher.

Charlie Myrick wills his nice personality to Joe Poole, as we know he will use it.

Helen Gregory wills her quietness to Martha Sue Julian, hoping she will take advantage of it.

Charles Pearce wills his French book to Glenner Burns, hoping she will open it, as he didn't Ralph Gheen wills his superlative, tardiness, to Christine Mahaley.

Jim Sides wills himself to the one and only Georgia Tech Basketball Team.

Tarbay Sides wills his superlative, wittiest, to Jim Loflin, as we know he will use it.

Jack McDowell wills the Bamby Bakeries to any big eater.

Raymond Goodman wills his superlative, Most Athletic, to Jerry Dees, who we know will use it.

Bob Connor wills his nice name to any obsolete person in school.

Charles Huffman wills his office of President of the Senior Class to anyone who wants to work hard.

Rachel Winders wills her smile to Nancy Snider, who will use it.

Marie Hoffner wills her superlative, Most Original, to Lewis West, knowing he will use it.

Charles Rosemond, last but not least in size, wills the old keyboard to Mary Ann Broadway, hoping she won't tear the piano up as he did.

Donnie Gilert wills her superlative, Most Courteous, to Ronald Thomas.
